Annual Report
& Honor Roll of Donors

Baystate Health Foundation
ADVANCING CARE. ENHANCING LIVES.
During the past few months, all of our worlds have been impacted through the COVID-19 pandemic. We have had so many individuals and organizations come together to help out, through donations of funds, personal protective equipment, and meals for our team members. Your encouraging words and the “hearts for healthcare workers” seen as we drive through neighborhoods also helped to propel this important work forward.

When the Baystate Health Foundation Annual Report was first in production, it was in a pre-COVID-19 world. Where we stand today is very different, with some of our loved ones being impacted and a constant flurry of news about trends and a deep understanding of the importance of flattening the curve. Though the world has changed much since we began to put this report together, one thing has not – how important you are to us.

The Baystate Health Foundation Annual Report is a celebration of the support and dedication you showed us in 2019. You are receiving this report because you have been part of our story. You have made a donation, attended an event, included the Foundation in your bequest, pledged to make a transformational gift, or showed us support in one of many other ways. It is important to us that even during these uncertain times, we say “thank you” and recognize all you do for Baystate Health.

We appreciate your continued support as we work to prepare our healthcare teams to support our communities during COVID-19 and find great peace in knowing that we are all in this together.

Wishing you and yours good health. Thank you for helping to advance care and enhance the lives of those Baystate Health is privileged to serve.

ON THE COVER:
The faces of Baystate Health team members who make a difference in the lives of patients each and every day.
SEE HOW YOU MADE A DIFFERENCE!

Here are some ways in which your generosity made a difference at Baystate Health in 2019.

Instead of having to stick a baby’s heel for blood each time an infant’s CO2 level needed to be tested, two TCM CombiM monitors were funded to provide non-invasive monitoring in the Davis Neonatal Intensive Care Unit.

At Baystate Franklin Medical Center, 500 Halo Sleep Sacks were funded. These sleep sacks promote safe sleep for infants and reduce the rate of infant suffocation.

Baystate Noble Hospital joined Baystate Medical Center as the second oncology surgical site in western Massachusetts offering a more advanced surgical procedure, radioactive seed localization to diagnose breast cancer.

A portion of the purchase of a 3D mammography machine at Baystate Mary Lane Outpatient Center was funded through donors’ generosity.

Cardiac monitors were funded for the Baystate Wing Hospital Emergency Department, which provide the capability to care for patients in any of the 20 treatment bays.

The Acute Care for Elders program received funding to outfit its community room with items to make patients comfortable, from bookshelves and lamps to multi-sensory tools that aid in recovery.

Baystate Health Foundation Receives Prestigious Grant from TD Bank

It’s a cold January morning in Springfield, MA. Melanie awakes feeling more fatigued than usual and with a thirst that can’t be quenched. She tries to ignore her mysterious symptoms as she feeds her children quickly, gets them off to school, and catches the bus to her first job of the day. Little does Melanie know that she’s pre-diabetic and will soon begin to feel the effects of the disease more intensely. What she needs are routine screenings that fit in to her busy life at a convenient location. This would allow a doctor to discover what is going on and help her take the actions needed to reverse her health outcomes.

Due to lack of transportation, financial constraints, and work and family commitments, low-to-moderate income at-risk individuals often do not receive the life-saving health screenings required to keep themselves healthy. Baystate Health is embarking on a creative solution to this challenge.

Thinking outside of the box

In December, the TD Bank Group awarded Baystate Health Foundation a $750,000* TD Ready Challenge grant to support the TD Bank-Baystate Health Bus, a mobile prevention health clinic will bring care into urban and rural communities, providing health services to those who may have difficulty accessing healthcare.

“Providing enhanced access to health for members of our community—through education, information, and screenings for disease prevention—in a culturally sensitive and convenient fashion, is crucial to maintaining the health and wellness of our population,” shared Andrew Artenstein, MD, chief physician executive and chief academic officer, Baystate Health and regional executive dean, University of Massachusetts Medical School-Baystate. “This grant will allow us to connect with individuals we may not usually see in the office and provide them with the resources and knowledge to live healthier lives.”

The bus project includes a unique interdisciplinary education plan to train the next generation of healthcare professionals...

from the Population-based Urban and Rural Community Health (PURCH) track at UMass Medical School-Baystate and health professions students from area colleges and universities.

“The bus will allow students to learn how to partner with the community and meet their needs,” said Kevin Hinchey, MD, chief education officer, Baystate Health and senior associate dean of education, University of Massachusetts Medical School-Baystate. “This opportunity will expand the horizons and knowledge of participating students.”

Prevention for a population
The TD Ready Challenge, a North American grant competition, welcomed 378 applications and awarded grants to 10 organizations, with four awardees in the United States. TD Bank sought projects that were grounded in clinical solutions focused on preventative efforts, including screenings, early detection, and interventional innovations designed to reduce the onset, development, and severity of chronic disease and other illnesses. A key element of these successful awards was that these health initiatives were designed to be replicable.

The TD Bank-Baystate Health Bus fits the bill, especially with the rise in chronic health issues in Hampden, Hampshire, and Franklin counties including high rates of obesity, cardiovascular disease, diabetes, asthma, and mental health and substance use disorders. Baystate Health will work closely with community partners to prioritize health issues and identify locations the health bus will visit.

Keep an eye out for the TD Bank-Baystate Health Bus on the road in 2021.

“THIS GRANT WILL ALLOW US TO CONNECT WITH INDIVIDUALS WE MAY NOT USUALLY SEE IN THE OFFICE AND PROVIDE THEM WITH THE RESOURCES AND KNOWLEDGE TO LIVE HEALTHIER LIVES.”

A Family’s Commitment to Giving Back

For the Antonacci family, making a difference locally is engrained in their values and, as Frank M. Antonacci shared, “we feel blessed to be able to give back to organizations like Baystate Health through Baystate Health Foundation.”

“The generosity of the Antonacci Foundation spans more than five years and continues to make a difference for many who receive treatment at Baystate Health, especially pediatric patients and their families.

Most recently, the Antonacci family established an endowed fund in support of Baystate Children’s Hospital patient care – helping to ensure that needed resources are available for decades to come. Their family first provided generous gifts in support of the newly expanded Pediatric Procedure Unit with support to the Sadowsky Center for Children’s Pediatric Oncology area by funding the reception area and a treatment room. Along with their endowment gift, they funded the renovation of the In-patient Pediatric Treatment Room at Baystate Children’s Hospital, a specific care area where patients receive treatment when they’re in the hospital.

According to Frank, Baystate Health Foundation’s mission hits home with their family.

“We’re a big family, we have kids running around all over the place,” shared Frank with a smile. “If we can change the life of one child, it is worth doing.”

A better place
The family consults with one another in making the decisions on what organizations to support, as well as including many of their employees and customers. They want their philanthropic giving to stay local and their gifts to benefit the organizations that serve local communities.

“We believe, philosophically, that if we all make our own backyards a better place, then the world will become a better place,” said Frank. “We like to find the nonprofits that are making an impact and then support them. Baystate Health fits hand in glove with what we want to accomplish.”

The real heroes
Their generosity expands beyond Baystate Children’s Hospital. The “backyards” that the Antonacci Family Foundation works to improve spans the communities served by Baystate Health. They have supported many of the Foundation’s events, including Wheeling for Healing for Cancer Care and Services at Baystate Franklin Medical Center; Rays of Hope Walk & Run Toward the Cure of Breast Cancer; and the Baystate Noble Ball.

“We hope that some of the things we’ve done to support Baystate Health’s hospitals makes it just a little bit easier for patients and families,” said Frank.

Frank notes the important role the family’s faith plays in their desire and commitment to give back. He is also quick to recognize those he sees as the real difference-makers.

“I feel that we’ve been blessed to be able to help,” Frank said. “Realistically, the people who dedicate their lives to caring for patients – the people who spend their lives making a difference for others – they are real heroes.”

While Frank may not view himself and the family as heroes, the patients and families whose lives have been improved may think otherwise.

Forward-thinking Donor Helps Advance Care

Paul Cohen has excellent foresight. It’s what has made him a successful businessman – still working and seeking out new opportunities at age 86 – and spurs his generosity to Baystate Health.

“Look how much medicine has advanced over the years,” says Paul, co-founder and CFO of Planned Furniture Promotions. “Giving back to Baystate Health makes a direct impact on the health and quality of life for the community.”

For Paul, having access to quality care close to home is a true gift: “With the high caliber of Baystate Health,” he says, “there’s no need to go beyond Springfield for ongoing health maintenance and for specialized expertise.”

Born in Springfield, Paul and his late wife Harriet were deeply engaged with their communities throughout their lives. A committed philanthropist now residing in Simsbury, CT, Paul still travels to Baystate Medical Center for his care.

“The pain management team at Baystate helped my late wife through cancer treatment; I continue to experience the best in care for my own post-cancer treatment; and I now walk pain free and have my energy back thanks to vascular surgeon Dr. Marc Norris and the team at the Davis Family Heart & Vascular Center.”

Strategic giving
Excellent care inspired Paul’s charitable gift to Baystate Health Foundation, which will ultimately support pain management in honor of Harriet and heart and vascular care. His latest gift annuity is in honor of Dr. Marc Norris, whom he credits with giving him back his life after a health scare last April.

Innovation from the heart
Through his gifts, Paul’s been able to have a hand in ensuring Baystate Health continues to provide innovative and accessible treatment.
“Innovation is key to the advancement of heart & vascular care, just as it has been key to Paul’s business,” says Dr. Aaron Kugelmass, Vice President & Medical Director, Heart & Vascular Program and Chief of Cardiology. “Paul is a wonderful partner and his support will help lead us in innovative new directions.”

“If you don’t have your health, all of the money in the world isn’t going to help you. To keep this stellar level of care close to home, we all need to support Baystate Health,” noted Paul.

“THERE’S NO NEED TO GO BEYOND SPRINGFIELD FOR ONGOING HEALTH MAINTENANCE AND FOR SPECIALIZED EXPERTISE.

— Paul Cohen

Dennis Chalke
Treasurer & Chief Financial Officer, Baystate Health
Treasurer, Baystate Health Foundation

We would like to thank Dennis Chalke for his more than 30 years of service to Baystate Health and the Baystate Health Foundation. Dennis retired on March 1, 2020, from his role as Senior Vice President, Chief Financial Officer and Treasurer for Baystate Health. Dennis played a key role in many of the health system’s major strategic initiatives and developed very positive and productive relationships with multiple organizations, including the investment banking community.

Baystate Health Foundation exceeded its success in 2018, with $6 million in gifts, grants, and event revenue, an increase from $5.5 million last year. This growth can be attributed to your generosity. Thanks to you, the Foundation is able to continue to support important initiatives at Baystate Health that allow our community to have access to the care it deserves.

With $9.4 million disbursed across the health system, patient care, research, technology, and facility development were all touched by your dollars in 2019.

Thank you for your support of Baystate Health in 2019. Your generosity has allowed us to embark on projects that create a better tomorrow for our patients.

Dennis Chalke

A Message from President & CEO Mark A. Keroack, MD

During his leadership, Baystate Health showed strong growth in net assets, maintained strong investor relations, and was rated A+/Stable by Standard & Poor’s for over ten years. We appreciate Dennis’ achievements, dedication and long-time commitment to Baystate Health.
