For Eftihia “Effy” Georgallis, it began in 2016. Dawn was breaking on April 4, 2016 in Florence, Italy, where Effy was spending a semester abroad. It was midnight in Amherst, where her friends were set to reveal the final tally at the UMass For the Kids UDance – an annual, 12-hour dance marathon in support of Baystate Children’s Hospital.

Suddenly, the number burst through social media: $80,000.

“2017 UMass UDance raises over $130,000 for new pediatric unit”

“That’s when I knew we’d break $100,000 in 2017,” Effy remembers.

She was right. In a big way.

This year, with Effy serving as President of the UMass For the Kids UDance Steering Board, the event raised a record-breaking $133,270.77 – with every penny supporting Baystate Children’s Hospital’s new Pediatric Procedures & Infusion Unit.

(continued on page 3)

Memorial gifts ease families’ grief

Gifts in memory of Rev. Dr. Eric W. Bascom, Jr. support bereavement trays at Baystate Medical Center

“Angels come when you need them most,” says Ann Bascom Aurich.

“Every person who was sent to us at Baystate brought his or her unique strengths to help my father and our family.”

For nearly a week last October, the Bascom family gathered around the Rev. Dr. Eric W. Bascom, Jr. as he neared the end of his long struggle with congestive heart failure.

Five children, four stepchildren, and scores of spouses and grandchildren arrived from points near and far, converging in the Rev. Dr. Bascom’s room in the MassMutual Wing of Baystate Medical Center’s Davis Family Heart & Vascular Center.

The experience could have been chaotic, and even more stressful, were it not for the “crowd control” efforts of Kevin Shaw, RN, says Ann.

(continued on page 5)
Baystate Health Foundation
Board of Trustees

Chair
Jean Deliso, CFP
Andrew Artenstein, MD
Patricia Canavan
Dennis Chalke
Christopher Cloutier, MSFS
Steven Dane, CPA
Dena Hall
Sam Hamner
Barry Jacobs, MD, FACS
Mark Keroack, MD, MPH
John Maybury
Mary McGovern
Michele Megas-Ditomassi
Cheryl Ronzoni
Ali Salehi
Nancy Shendell-Falik, RN, MA
Mark Teed
Mark Tolosky, JD

Interim Leader of Philanthropy
Kathy Tobin

Baystate Health Foundation
Together we help achieve a higher state of care.

Our Mission
The mission of Baystate Health Foundation is to inspire a “culture of philanthropy” and encourage philanthropic relationships that will support the mission of Baystate Health: to improve the health of the people in our communities every day, with quality and compassion.

Honoring your generosity
Jean Deliso
Chair, Baystate Health Foundation

As a lifelong resident of greater Springfield – and a parent of two amazing children born at Baystate – I know what Baystate Health means to our community.

As a donor, I have – like you – witnessed the impact of philanthropy on patients’ lives. Now, as chair of our Foundation, it is my privilege to help channel the power of your generosity.

You’re part of a continuum of compassion.
A century ago, my grandfather left Italy for New York and eventually made Springfield his home.

Joseph J. Deliso, Sr. was an entrepreneur and an active volunteer and philanthropist in our community. And he built businesses that nourished the dreams of thousands of people in future generations – including mine.

Every day, as a certified financial planner, I help people build a strong scaffolding to support their financial goals.

As a donor to Baystate Health Foundation, you do the same.

Your gift helps support a higher level of caring.
Without your support, there wouldn’t be enough dollars to give our many patients and healthcare professionals all that they need. Your gift helps keep our facilities current, accelerates availability of state-of-the-art technology, and improves our care experience in countless ways.

Our Foundation is active and engaged, thanks to immediate past chair Sam Hamner, his predecessors, and our talented, dedicated board members and staff. Special thanks to Jane Albert, who was recently promoted to a broader role as senior vice president for marketing, communications and external relations at Baystate Health (see page 7) – a role in which her passion and focus and commitment will continue to add breadth and depth to our work.

You’re the most essential ingredient in our Foundation's success.
My family taught me, by example, the importance of giving time – as well as resources – to the causes we believe in. As a donor, you share that conviction.

Whether you serve on our board or on a committee, attend events, or take time to explore giving options or learn about and support our work, I thank you for making Baystate Health Foundation an important part of your life – as well as your charity of choice.

I am honored to walk beside you as Chair of Baystate Health Foundation.

Thanks to generous people like you, Baystate Health is nationally recognized for its excellence and innovation.

Baystate Health Foundation is on Facebook!
Like our page today! We’d love to keep you informed all year long - sharing stories about how Baystate Health’s exceptional care is impacted by gifts made by generous people like you.
facebook.com/baystatehealthfoundation

Honoring your generosity
Jean Deliso
Chair, Baystate Health Foundation
As a lifelong resident of greater Springfield – and a parent of two amazing children born at Baystate – I know what Baystate Health means to our community.
Saving lives and helping kids be kids
Part of a national network of college dance marathons benefiting Baystate Children’s Hospital and other Children’s Miracle Network Hospitals, UMass For the Kids UDance is an intensive, year-round commitment for the student volunteers who make it happen.
There are weekly planning meetings and hours of coordination with scores of student performance groups who perform at UDance. UMass student volunteers even organize and host an on-campus scavenger hunt for young patients of Baystate Children’s Hospital – some of whom return on marathon day to greet their many fans on the “red carpet”.

“It’s an opportunity to work with amazing people on something incredibly worthwhile,” Effy adds, who graduated in May and is now seeking her first professional job in fundraising. “Traumatic experiences – like being really sick – can have long-lasting effects on developing brains. It’s important to reduce that stress by giving kids the most comfortable care environments possible.”

“The children at Baystate are so inspirational to us,” she adds. “No matter how hard their treatment is, they never stop smiling. They never stop being kids. Through UDance, we get to help kids be kids for as long as possible – while supporting the care that saves their lives.”

Labor of love
“UDance is an outpouring of unconditional love,” says Michael Wiseman, director of the university’s Office of Fraternities and Sororities and an event advisor. “The kids at Baystate Children’s Hospital have become part of our extended UMass family,” he continues, noting that the UMass UDance has grown five-fold since it began in 2005. “Every year, more and more of our students volunteer to help.
College-age students vividly remember what it was like to be eight years old. This is a very powerful experience for them.”

Wiseman notes that several former student volunteers have, like Effy, leveraged their experience into careers in philanthropy as well as pediatric health care. “UDance allows students to build valuable skill sets, while growing in empathy.”

For Wiseman, UDance is a meaningful experience on a personal level.
“Springfield has been my home for twenty years,” he says. “It’s full of wonderful cultural offerings and great people, with enormous potential – and Baystate Health is a big part of that. By getting to know the families at Baystate Children’s Hospital, our students are discovering Springfield and directly making an impact.”

To learn more about the UMass For the Kids UDance and follow their continued success during this year’s UDance, please visit https://www.umassftk.org

Pictured (Top): Baystate Children’s Hospital patient and UDance enthusiast Carmelina Durocher takes a break from dancing to pose with two UMass students. (Left): Many of the 1,400 students who participated in UDance learned the morale dance, a choreographed routine that kicks off the top of every hour at UDance.

Join Us
For over a century, Baystate Wing Hospital has been our community hospital. The Emergency Department, last updated more than 20 years ago, is undergoing an expansion with the construction of a new Emergency Department that will open September 2018.

Double your Gift Today: Announcing our Noonan Family $100,000 Community Challenge!
Between now and December 31, 2017, the Noonan family will match all new donations to the Baystate Wing Hospital Emergency Department Campaign for an overall total of $100,000.
Please give and together we will be helping our community.

The New Emergency Department will provide:
• 20 private treatment rooms to enhance patient care & privacy
• Access to CT scan and Radiology (x-ray) services all located within the department
• Shorter wait times

“Please join us in supporting this much needed new Emergency Department. Thank you!”
-Ed and Ellen Noonan

For more information, please contact Teresa Grove at (413) 370-5798 or teresa.grove@baystatehealth.org. Gifts can be made online by visiting baystatehealth.org/bhf.
You sustain our heritage of care

Mark A. Keroack, MD, MPH
President & CEO, Baystate Health

Thank you for your support of Baystate Health Foundation – and for your belief in our shared mission.

You are part of a living heritage of care – one that spans generations.

I am honored to help you sustain that heritage. I often reflect on the fact that that many of the people who entrust their care to us today are, in fact, the children and grandchildren of my father's patients – people I met when I rounded with him, in what are now Baystate Health hospitals, as a child. Similarly, Foundation chair Jean Delisio's parents and grandparents speak through every moment of leadership and every philanthropic gift she shares – including a $25,000 gift from New York Life Insurance Company that Jean helped to inspire last fall, funding ten Angel Eyes cameras in our NICU. Thanks to New York Life's generosity, families are now able to “visit” with our babies any time.

Like the inspiring people featured in this issue of Impact, I know you have a story of your own – a story that is the root of your philanthropy.

We pick up the baton and we carry it together.

The spotlight shone on your generosity recently, when the stellar care that you make possible earned Baystate Medical Center the status as one the top three hospitals in New England. Baystate Medical Center one of only 48 hospitals in the nation to be top-rated in all nine clinical categories measured by U.S. News – based on performance on 75 rigorous measures across all nine categories.

You walk with the first students of our new medical school as they begin to learn and love our community. In collaboration with UMass Medical School, we’re educating western Massachusetts’ future physicians. You are part of the infrastructure that supports groundbreaking work to address threats to our community's health – such as Chief Research Officer Dr. Peter Friedmann’s study of our region’s opioid epidemic, recently funded by a $663,000 grant from the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

Your gift is more impactful than ever.

You make it possible for Baystate Health to continue to grow – in clinical care, research, and medical education – and to grapple with the health effects of poverty, aging, chronic illness, substance abuse, and more. Our community’s need is great. And so is your generosity.

On behalf of everyone who is touched by your compassion, I thank you.

Honoring a Last Wish: To be Remembered

Susan Liddell’s family makes a gift in tribute to her service as a midwife

Walking the halls of The Birthplace at Baystate Franklin Medical Center, you'll notice a captivating portrait of a woman smiling into the eyes of a newborn baby. That painting captures the essence of Susan Liddell’s iconic career in midwifery – 25 years providing OB/GYN care and delivering over 2,000 babies to the families of Franklin County and beyond.

Before passing away from cancer, Susan made one request to her wife and daughter – not to be forgotten.

“She had such an immense impact on this community and her profession,” recalls her wife, Jackie Wisotsky, who wanted a way to honor Susan's career, life and legacy.

A lasting legacy

This fall, a plaque honoring Susan will hang in The Birthplace at Baystate Franklin outside its newest water birthing room, a project currently under construction thanks in part to the generosity of Susan’s family. The tribute is fitting. Through her work at the Birthplace and Baystate Pioneer Women's Health, Susan was a pioneering advocate for water births, leading development of Baystate Franklin's medical protocols for the birthing technique and inspiring a new culture for mothers.

“Susan and I always had the Birthplace in our thoughts when it came to making donations,” says Jackie, who decided to give with retirement assets. “This gift carries on her memory and represents everything she embodied.”

A true professional

Susan was passionate about lifelong learning and committed to mentoring new midwives. Dedicated to providing a full spectrum of gynecological care, she expanded her skill set to include colposcopy procedures – a procedure, not commonly performed by midwives, that supports early detection and treatment.

“To work alongside Susan was to work in the company of a true professional, educator, leader, and caring soul,” says Linda Jablonski, assistant nurse manager for the Birthplace.

“The time I spent with her on the floors of our unit and as a friend was invaluable.”

A caring team

When she found herself in the role of patient, A caring team. The birthplace at Baystate Franklin outside its newest water birthing room, a project currently under construction thanks in part to the generosity of Susan’s family.

For water births, leading development of Baystate Franklin's medical protocols for the birthing technique and inspiring a new culture for mothers.

“Susan and I always had the Birthplace in our thoughts when it came to making donations,” says Jackie, who decided to give with retirement assets. “This gift carries on her memory and represents everything she embodied.”

A true professional

Susan was passionate about lifelong learning and committed to mentoring new midwives. Dedicated to providing a full spectrum of gynecological care, she expanded her skill set to include colposcopy procedures – a procedure, not commonly performed by midwives, that supports early detection and treatment.

“To work alongside Susan was to work in the company of a true professional, educator, leader, and caring soul,” says Linda Jablonski, assistant nurse manager for the Birthplace.

“The time I spent with her on the floors of our unit and as a friend was invaluable.”

A caring team

When she found herself in the role of patient, the staff and nurses at Baystate Franklin were there for her, becoming like family. “Their thoughtfulness and support,” Jackie remembers, “made it possible for Susan to keep working as long as she did. That made such a difference in her emotional well-being.”

We pick up the baton and we carry it together.

The spotlight shone on your generosity recently, when the stellar care that you make possible earned Baystate Medical Center the status as one the top three hospitals in New England. Baystate Medical Center one of only 48 hospitals in the nation to be top-rated in all nine clinical categories measured by U.S. News – based on performance on 75 rigorous measures across all nine categories.

You walk with the first students of our new medical school as they begin to learn and love our community. In collaboration with UMass Medical School, we’re educating western Massachusetts’ future physicians. You are part of the infrastructure that supports groundbreaking work to address threats to our community’s health – such as Chief Research Officer Dr. Peter Friedmann’s study of our region’s opioid epidemic, recently funded by a $663,000 grant from the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

Your gift is more impactful than ever.

You make it possible for Baystate Health to continue to grow – in clinical care, research, and medical education – and to grapple with the health effects of poverty, aging, chronic illness, substance abuse, and more. Our community’s need is great. And so is your generosity.

On behalf of everyone who is touched by your compassion, I thank you.

Susan Liddell’s family makes a gift in tribute to her service as a midwife

Walking the halls of The Birthplace at Baystate Franklin Medical Center, you'll notice a captivating portrait of a woman smiling into the eyes of a newborn baby. That painting captures the essence of Susan Liddell’s iconic career in midwifery – 25 years providing OB/GYN care and delivering over 2,000 babies to the families of Franklin County and beyond.

Before passing away from cancer, Susan made one request to her wife and daughter – not to be forgotten.

“She had such an immense impact on this community and her profession,” recalls her wife, Jackie Wisotsky, who wanted a way to honor Susan’s career, life and legacy.

A lasting legacy

This fall, a plaque honoring Susan will hang in The Birthplace at Baystate Franklin outside its newest water birthing room, a project currently under construction thanks in part to the generosity of Susan’s family. The tribute is fitting. Through her work at the Birthplace and Baystate Pioneer Women’s Health, Susan was a pioneering advocate for water births, leading development of Baystate Franklin’s medical protocols for the birthing technique and inspiring a new culture for mothers.

“Susan and I always had the Birthplace in our thoughts when it came to making donations,” says Jackie, who decided to give with retirement assets. “This gift carries on her memory and represents everything she embodied.”

A true professional

Susan was passionate about lifelong learning and committed to mentoring new midwives. Dedicated to providing a full spectrum of gynecological care, she expanded her skill set to include colposcopy procedures – a procedure, not commonly performed by midwives, that supports early detection and treatment.

“To work alongside Susan was to work in the company of a true professional, educator, leader, and caring soul,” says Linda Jablonski, assistant nurse manager for the Birthplace.

“The time I spent with her on the floors of our unit and as a friend was invaluable.”

A caring team

When she found herself in the role of patient, the staff and nurses at Baystate Franklin were there for her, becoming like family. “Their thoughtfulness and support,” Jackie remembers, “made it possible for Susan to keep working as long as she did. That made such a difference in her emotional well-being.”

You too can honor a loved one and create a lasting legacy. Please contact Kylie Johnson at (413) 794-7789 or kylie.johnson@baystatehealth.org to learn about your options.
If you would like to help ease the grief of a family served by our Palliative Care Program, please contact Kathy Tobin at (413) 794-5996 or kathy.tobin@baystatehealth.org

In his final days, Rev. Dr. Bascom, Jr.’s caregivers made sure that each of his many family members had one-on-one time with him. A son on the cusp of overseas military deployment was at his father’s bedside. Late one night, another son sat in the darkness with his guitar and softly sang his father’s favorite James Taylor songs to him. “Kevin and every other member of Dad’s care team – Jeff Hannafin, RN, Mary Bove, RN, Betsy Bateman, RN, Betsy Caban, RN, Heather Mulcahey, RN, David Bennett, RN, Trish McGovern, NP, Jackie Andrews, PCT, Mara Tanon, PCT, Richelle Power, PCT, the chaplains who prayed with us, and of course Dr. Mara Slawsky, who took care of Dad for so many years, right up until the end – guided us through uncharted territory with such wisdom and compassion,” says Ann. “They will always have a place in our hearts, and I’d like to think that our father left a piece of his heart with them.”

“Ironically, as a fifty-year member of the clergy in Springfield, Dad had served on an Interfaith Council that fought hard to bring palliative care to the Pioneer Valley and Baystate,” she adds. “How blessed we were that he was ultimately a recipient of that fine care.”

Sustenance in grief

Having arrived from her home in Fredericksburg, Virginia with her husband, daughter, and grandson, Ann rarely left her father’s room. “I essentially moved in,” she remembers. “None of us wanted to leave, because we knew that he could pass at any moment.” That’s why the bereavement trays provided by the Baystate Health Palliative Care Program were so welcome, she explains – and why the Bascom family decided to request memorial donations to help make the trays available to other families who will walk in their shoes.

Angels come when you need them most. Every person who was sent to us at Baystate brought unique strengths to help my father and our family.

– Ann Bascom Aurich

“At one point, early on, we had about 15 people in Dad’s room or in the corridor, and in comes this tray full of healthy food prepared and delivered with such love,” she remembers. “It was such a surprise. The next one came a couple of days before he passed. And the final one came after he died, when we were lost in our grief – providing both physical and spiritual strength. Those little human touches mean so much.”

When the family considered where to direct potential charitable contributions from the thousands of people whose lives Rev. Dr. Bascom, Jr. had touched during his long ministry, “it was a no-brainer” to choose the bereavement trays program, says Ann. “We’re so grateful to all the people who are now helping the Bascom family support others through loss and grief, in Dad’s memory,” says Ann. “We hope we’re providing some comfort to them, as others did for us.”

Baystate Wing Hospital breaks ground on new Emergency Department

On May 9, Baystate Wing Hospital welcomed community leaders and public officials – along with generous campaign donors who are helping to make it all possible – to break ground for its new Emergency Department. The $17.2 million project – $2.8 million to be funded by philanthropic contributions – will replace the current ED with a state-of-the-art facility, double in size and built to accommodate today’s annual volume of 24,000 emergency visits.

Pictured: Baystate Health and Wing Hospital leadership are joined by community leaders and members of the building team for the ceremonial groundbreaking.

To view a video of the Bascom family thanking the caregivers who took care of Rev. Dr. Bascom, please visit baystatehealth.org/bhf and click on “Stay Connected.”

Gifts of Gratitude

Baystate Health Foundation’s Gifts of Gratitude program offers a deeply impactful way to honor a physician, nurse, technician, or any member of the Baystate Health family who has contributed to a positive care experience for you or your family – while at the same time benefiting other patients in our care. The team member you wish to recognize will receive your message of thanks, as well as a special commemorative pin that will always remind him or her of your thoughtfulness. And your gift will help to fund the programs, technology, and facilities that support care for patients.

To learn more about Gifts of Gratitude, please contact Kathy Tobin at (413) 794-5996 or kathy.tobin@baystatehealth.org
Thank You

Jane Albert
Senior Vice President, Marketing, Communications and External Relations, Baystate Health

There are so many magical ways to impact people’s lives

Soon after I began my role at Baystate Health Foundation four years ago, we created this newsletter and named it Impact. We wanted to align the title with the focus of its intended content – to showcase the many ways in which lives are impacted by philanthropy.

This issue of Impact offers a meaningful glimpse into the many inspirational acts of generosity that power Baystate Health Foundation.

I am so inspired by your commitment to positively impact the lives of our patients through your philanthropic support.

At Baystate Health Foundation, I learned that philanthropy flows in many directions. I learned that generosity heals, on many levels. I have been honored by your invitations to be with you and your families during good times as well as challenging times. I have savored our moments together, and done my best to provide comfort and inspiration when needed.

While I have no magic wands to heal, it sometimes seems that our physicians, nurses, and other care providers can do magic when it comes to their patients. It is magical to see you inspired by the life-saving talents of our physicians, nurses and others – committing your treasures to support the charitable mission that drives all that Baystate Health does to support the vast, diverse health needs of our community.

I have been fortunate to find magical moments each day at Baystate. And I have been supported by a terrific team and an exceptional board of trustees. I am grateful for having served three talented and enormously dedicated chairs, John Maybury, Sam Hamner, and Jean Deliso – all of whom have brought forth great passion and commitment to foster a strategic approach to all fundraising pathways.

I have recently journeyed along another pathway when I was asked by Dr. Keroack to take on a new role as Baystate’s senior vice president for marketing, communications, and external relations.

While I will be concluding my tenure as vice president of philanthropy for Baystate Health and executive director of Baystate Health Foundation, I will oversee this area and will ensure a smooth transition for our new leader, Scott Berg. At press time, we were delighted to learn that Scott – currently President & CEO of the YMCA of Greater Springfield – will be joining us as Vice President of Philanthropy for Baystate Health and Executive Director of Baystate Health Foundation. In my new role, I will continue to focus on growth opportunities and all pathways to further promote philanthropy – continuing to steward strong relationships and support for Baystate within our communities.

It has been an honor to be surrounded by people who share a passion to improve the lives of others. To each and every person who has contributed time, talent, and treasure to impact the lives of our patients through your philanthropic support, I thank you! Thank you for the magic you have brought to my life and the lives of others impacted by your caring, compassion and generosity.

Jane Albert

Spring and Summer Events in Support of Patient Care

Our community came together in some of the most beautiful places in western Massachusetts over the spring and summer – helping to deliver a higher state of caring and raise funds that will make a tangible difference in our patients’ lives. Thank you!

Baystate Children’s Hospital: 94.7
WMAS Radiothon: An interview with 7-year-old Jaryanna Miranda (left), who is in treatment for leukemia at Baystate Children’s Hospital, was one of many conversations that helped inspire our community to give $233,562 – marking the most telephone donations ever made during our radiothon’s 16-year history!

Baystate Noble Hospital: 5K Run & Walk:
Led by Honorary King and Queen Gary and Tina Gorman (right), hundreds of runners and walkers hit the pavement at Westfield’s Stanley Park for the 33rd annual Baystate Noble Hospital 5K Run & Walk for a Noble Cause – raising significant support for the hospital’s Greatest Needs Fund.

Baystate Home Health:
Wine Tasting: Friends of Baystate Home Health sampled a variety of local craft beers and wines from around the world at Tekoa Country Club — raising over $20,000 in support of vital home health services and hospice care at the 13th annual event.

Baystate Mary Lane: Walk of Champions:
Baystate Mary Lane laced up at Goodnough Dike at the Quabbin Reservoir for this year’s Walk of Champions, which raised $67,000 in support of a 2,500-square-foot expansion of the Baystate Mary Lane Oncology Unit.

Baystate Children’s Hospital:
Golf Tournament: Over 200 golfers (including Linda Desmond, Michele Megas-Ditomassi, Anne Kandilis, and Roberta Bolduc, pictured at right) teed up at Longmeadow Country Club & The Ranch Golf Club, capping a day on the links with an evening event at Latitude — raising over $180,000 in support of care for our community’s children.
We’re bringing vital services for chronically ill children together under one roof

Please help us build the new Pediatric Procedures and Infusion Unit at Baystate Children’s Hospital

It all began on a bright summer morning in 2015. Beth Perron noticed that her youngest child, one-year-old Sam – proud new walker and intrepid explorer – was stumbling.

Maybe he’s tired, she thought at first. Maybe it’s an ear infection, she thought later. By the end of the day, a routine visit to the pediatrician had led to two terrifying diagnoses.

Sam’s motor difficulties were caused by opsoclonus myoclonus syndrome (OMS), a rare and rapidly progressing autoimmune disorder. It had been unleashed when his body responded to the tumor that had been growing – silent and symptomless – in his abdomen.

A stage 3 abdominal neuroblastoma was threatening Sam’s life. OMS was attacking his brain.

A day after diagnosis, Sam couldn’t walk at all. The next day, he couldn’t stand. Soon, he couldn’t crawl. Or sit up. “We were propping him up on the bed with pillows, like a six-month-old,” Beth remembers.

Over the next two years, Sam and his family would endure chemotherapy, surgery, more chemotherapy, immunoglobulin therapy, a recurrence of his tumor, and still more chemotherapy.

Today, three-year-old Sam spends long days at the Sadowsky Center for Children, located on the top floor of the D’Amour Center for Cancer Care, as well as at what he calls “the doctor’s house” (a.k.a. Baystate Children’s Hospital.)

To help us build the new Pediatric Procedures and Infusion Unit, please download our brochure at baystatehealth.org/bhf or contact Kathleen Bronner at (413) 794-7798 or kathleen.bronner@baystatehealth.org

Thank you

Pilgrim Interiors, Inc. recently presented a gift in support of the Pediatric Procedures & Infusion Unit project. Pilgrim Interiors President Richard Bernard, Jr. made the gift in loving memory of his mother, Lucille Letourneau, who served her community as a nurse in Canada before passing away from brain cancer last year. Members of the family gathered in their home to celebrate her legacy with a gift that will name a Nurses Station in the new Unit.

Pictured from left to right: Lucille’s grandchildren, Richard C. Bernard III and Monique Lucille Bernard, along with family members Jennifer Cavaliere, Richard Bernard, Jr., Ann Bernard and Patrick Bernard.

To learn more about how you can help build our new Pediatric Procedures & Infusion Unit, please download our brochure at baystatehealth.org/bhf or contact Kathleen Bronner at (413) 794-7798 or kathleen.bronner@baystatehealth.org

“The way Sam’s team goes above and beyond…it’s what makes something as devastating as a cancer diagnosis tolerable. We’re so grateful to everyone who takes care of him – including everyone who is helping to streamline his care by building the new PPIU.”

– Beth Perron, mother of Sam Perron, age 3
Financial Overview  Year Ended December 31, 2016

Contributions
$5.8 million

- Plans Giving: $0.1M (1%)
- Foundations (Grants): $0.1M (2%)
- Investment Gains: $7.3 million
- Net Asset Investment Income

Distributions
$9.3 million

- Charitable outright gifts, endowment gifts, planned gifts and income from gift investments have allowed us to distribute funds in support of the health system.

2016

Outright ($ in thousands)
- Patient Care, Education & Research: $3,227
- Capital – Buildings & Equipment: 2,751
- Endowment: 1,973
- Perpetual Trusts: 1,380

TOTAL DISTRIBUTIONS: $9,331

Net Foundation Assets
$117.2 million

- Perpetual Trusts
- Endowment
- Restricted
- Unrestricted

Net Asset Investment Income
Investment Gains: $7.3 million

2016

- Perpetual Trusts: $1.6
- Endowment: $4.2
- Restricted: $0.5
- Unrestricted: $1.0

2015

- Perpetual Trusts: $(0.8)
- Endowment: $(0.7)
- Restricted: $0.7
- Unrestricted: $(0.6)

We regretfully omitted the following donors from our Impact Society listing in the 2016 Baystate Health Annual Report. We thank them for their incredible generosity in reaching this philanthropic milestone and apologize for our oversight.

- Dennis Chalke
- Keith and Carol McLean-Shinaman
- Donna Ross and Peter Straley
- Joan Sullivan
- Mark and Noreen Tolosky
- David and Marcy Wilson
- Michael and Judith Daly+
- Lois Stebbins+
Robert Charles Photography
Holiday Portrait Promotion for Baystate Children’s Hospital

Say cheese…and happy holidays! 10% of all portrait fees benefit the kids in our care.

Robert Charles
Photography Studio
December 2017

17th annual 94.7 WMAS Radiothon for Baystate Children’s Hospital

Save the date to tune in and pledge your support for the incredible patients, families and care team at Baystate Children’s Hospital.

Baystate Children’s Hospital
March 6-7, 2018

2016 Noble Ball Sponsors

Platinum:
Crothall (Morrison)

Entertainment:
Baystate Noble Hospital Medical Staff

Wine:
Gaudreau Group

Gold:
Advance Mfg. Co., Inc.
Columbia Manufacturing
Elm Electric
John S. Lane & Son, Inc.
Shortstop Bar and Grill
Specialty Bolt & Screw
Westfield Emergency Physicians
Westfield News Group

Silver:
Business West
Colebrook Realty Services
Hannoush Jewelers
Prolamina
United Bank
USA Hauling & Recycling
Westfield Bank
Westfield Electroplating
Westfield Gas & Electric
Westfield State University

Bronze:
Abide
Air Compressor Engineering
Broadway Office Interiors
Clinical Financial Resource
Fition-Adams
Jefferson Radiology
MCL Mechanical Services
PeoplesBank
Roger Butler Insurance
Signet
Steffian Bradley Architects
Tighe & Bond
Unitex Textile Rental Services
Westfield Gardens/Birch Manor

2017 Noble Ball Sponsors

Platinum:
Advance Mfg., Co., Inc.
Baystate Noble Hospital Medical Staff

Entertainment:
Westfield Emergency Physicians, P.C.

Gold:
Columbia Manufacturing
Commercial Distributing Company

Silver:
BusinessWest
Colebrook Realty Services
Fition Adams
Hannoush Jewelers
Neusoft Medical Systems
Pioneer Valley Credit Union
United Bank
USA Hauling & Recycling
The Westfield News Group
Westfield Gas & Electric
Westfield State University

Bronze:
Air Compressor Engineering
Harry Grodsky & Co., Inc.
Jefferson Radiology
PeoplesBank
Prolamina
Raymond Houle Construction, Inc.
Roger Butler Insurance Agency, Inc.
Tighe & Bond
Unitex Textile Rental Services

make an impact

by supporting the
Baystate Health Foundation
Annual Fund today.
Visit baystatehealth.org/bhf